

US-GERMAN

INTERNSHIP PROGRAM

In cooperation with universities in the southeastern region of the USA

Starting bell for next round of US-German Internship Program!

For the fourth consecutive year, the US-German Internship Program will offer students from renowned universities in the southeastern region of the US the opportunity to complete summer internships with AmCham Germany member companies. The program provides interns an ideal opportunity to learn about the German business world and develop relationships with top international companies while also expanding their cultural horizons.

AmCham Germany aims to cultivate a positive view of Germany among the fourth group of students set to participate in this year's program and is greatly appreciative of companies' involvement.

Companies or individuals interested in the program who are unable to host an intern can sponsor the program and provide financial support to allow the interns this chance. Benefits of being a sponsor include mentions of your company in the membership magazine, commerce germany, and electronic newsletter as well as in the official brochure and flyer. Companies will also be featured on the AmCham Germany and Internship website (with logo).

WANTED: Housing for interns

For many interns, it will prove challenging to find and organize housing for their stay in Germany while still in the United States, so we kindly ask for your help.

If you are interested in contributing to German-American relations, you may provide a young American with housing in Germany. Please note that the students are not au-pairs and thus should not be obliged to do household chores.

"Prior to this internship, I had never left the US. While participating in the program last summer I was able to visit and learn about six different countries. It was an incredible experience that spurred my desire to pursue a career with an international company."
